

Ringworms

Ringworms have become a serious problem in the club lamb industry. Since most of the club goats are shown in the same barns and show rings, it is highly likely that ringworm will become a problem. Ringworms are very contagious and can be transmitted from goat to goat to human to goat, or from contaminated equipment to goat. Since ringworms are generally brought back from a show, a good preventative program is a must. The following products have been used with variable results:

Fulvicin powder given as a bolus or used as a top dress.

Sannox II 10% solution used to spray goats, equipment, and premises

Captan 3 teaspoons/gallon of water, used to spray goats, equipment, and premises

Novasan 3 ounces/gallon of water, used to spray goats, equipment, and premises

Chlorox 10% solution used to spray goats, equipment, and premises
